How Does It Work?

CSERV families connect to a CSERV clinician through the web on their own personal desktops, laptops and/or tablets. Within a few clicks the ABA session begins – no traveling or scheduling conflicts.

We are pleased to provide a way for families to receive ABA therapy for their loved ones through this revolutionary technology with the same safeguards and standards they would expect if the services were in person.

Why CSERV?

CSERV has been developing innovative solutions for individuals with special needs and their families for decades. The technology we employ was created by clinical visionaries who wanted to ensure treatment is never compromised due to distance, travel, scheduling and other common barriers.

In fact, the videoconferencing application we use has been investigated on various occasions through State and Federal grants. It was also featured twice at the Senate hearings on Combating Autism.

CSERV's clinicians are comprised of Certified Behavior Analysts who are specially trained on integrating ABA through videoconferencing and successfully training parents. Caregiver training is the key to our model's success.

The Power of CSERV

- No more wait-lists for services – instantly connect with a CSERV clinician in seconds
- Support and intervention when the behavior occurs (e.g., having the therapist present and receiving support as the tantrum happens)
- Therapy during times that accommodate you and your family's schedule (evenings & weekends)
- Receive training on behavioral strategies that empower you and your family
- Improved quality of life for all those involved

We are the only Telebehavior Analysis provider delivering services to individuals with special needs and their families exclusively through videoconferencing.

What is Telebehavior Analysis?

Telebehavior Analysis is the delivery of ABA practices through the use of videoconferencing (also known as telemedicine). CSERV has converged the most highly recommended treatment for autism with the latest videoconferencing technology to provide families instant access to clinical professionals.

Utilizing this technology:

- Parents receive direct training for programs designed for their child
- Parents actively participate in all sessions and collaborate with the therapist
- Families no longer have to be placed on wait lists for services; treatment can start now
- Connect with a CSERV clinician at any time from anywhere
- The transmission is HIPAA compliant ensuring privacy and security at all times
